Graham Russell & Russell Hitchcock met on May 12, 1975, and became instant friends with their common love for The Beatles and, of course, singing. They made a single in one afternoon and it shot to number one on the national charts. Air Supply was born! Their songs, “Lost in Love,” “All Out of Love,” “The One That You Love,” “Even the Nights are Better,” “Here I Am,” “Every Woman in the World,” “Sweet Dreams,” and “Making Love Out Of Nothing At All” have each achieved multimillion plays on the radio. The trademark sound of Hitchcock’s soaring tenor voice and Russell’s simple yet majestic songs create a unique sound that will forever be known as Air Supply—one of the quintessential adult contemporary artists of our times.

Since their inception five years ago, The Tenors (also known as the Canadian Tenors) have been thrilling audiences around the world with their powerful voices and memorable melodies. Their blend of classical music and contemporary pop has garnered them international success. In their short career, they have performed on “The Oprah Winfrey Show” (with Celine Dion), for Her Majesty The Queen during her Diamond Jubilee, the 2011 Emmy Awards, at the 2010 Olympics, and for the NBA, MLB, and NHL All-Star Games. They have rubbed shoulders with presidents, prime ministers, and princesses, and even shared a private tea with HM The Queen. They have shared the stage with Sarah McLachlan, Neil Young, Paul Anka, Justin Bieber, Paul McCartney, Brian McKnight, David Foster, and Natalie Cole, among others, in venues from Bangkok to London, and New York to Israel. They have been hailed as musical ambassadors and Canada’s national treasure.

Under the Streetlamp, America’s hottest new vocal group, delivers an electrifying evening of classic hits from the American Radio Songbook. These four magnetic vocalists bring their unique blend of tight harmonies and slick dance moves to popular Doo-Wop, Motown, and old time Rock ’n’ Roll hits from The Drifters, The Beach Boys, The Beatles, The Four Seasons, and more. The quartet is composed of recent leading cast members of the smash hit Jersey Boys: Michael Cunio, Michael Ingersoll, Christopher Kale Jones, and Shonn Wiley. Exuding the irresistible rapport of a modern day Rat Pack, Under the Streetlamp proves why retro never sounded so now!
