HONORS RESEARCH.

This course is designed to allow the Honors Student in Political Science or International Studies to complete her/his honors project research. It is organized as an independent study in which the faculty member supervises the student’s research, meeting regularly with the student, reviewing drafts, and providing the final grade for the Honors Project.

OUTCOMES:
- The student will successfully complete her/his Honors Research Project.