Purpose
In this course, students complete an internship in a selected area of history.

Objectives
Students will come to an understanding of a career in a selected area of history.

Goals
Through participating in career-related activities, students will come to a greater knowledge of the historical profession.

Outcomes
Students will be able to:
- Describe the activities involved in their internship.
- Analyze and critically evaluate their relationship to the internship and to the historical profession.
- Write well-argued essays delineating the connection between themselves, the internship, and the profession of history.

Assessment
Outcomes are assessed through the instructor's examination of the site supervisors' evaluation; review of the students' weekly reports; and evaluation of an 8-10 page essay in which the students reflect on what they completed during the internship, how they used skills developed in their history coursework, and what they learned from the experience. The grading scale is Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory.
