CAMP DIRECTOR CARMEN NOCERA

Carmen Nocera enters his 12th season with the Westminster College baseball program in 2011, including his ninth year (eighth consecutive) as head coach. The Titans have qualified for the Presidents' Athletic Conference (PAC) Tournament in three of the last four years, including the 2008 team that went 24-16 for the third-most wins in school history.

Nocera guided Westminster to its first conference championship in 40 years when the Titans won the 2005 PAC Championship with Nocera earning PAC Coach of the Year accolades.

In eight years as head coach in 2000 and from 2004-10, Nocera's record is 137-171 (.444), while the Titans are 203-205-1 (.498) in combined years with Nocera as head coach and associate head coach (2001-03).

Many players have enjoyed success under Nocera's watch, including 15 players earning a total of 21 all-PAC selections since 2004. John Izzo earned all-PAC honors for four years from 2006-09 and broke six school career records including hits and home runs. Brandon Drespling earned two all-PAC honors in 2007 and 2008 before becoming the first Westminster player in over 30 years to sign with a Major League team when he signed with the Brewers in 2008.

Prior to coming to Westminster, Nocera served for several years as head coach at nearby New Castle High School (1993-99). He also was a scout for both the Kansas City Royals (1989-91) and Florida Marlins (1991-99). Nocera is an accomplished amateur player, earning MSBL Eastern United States MVP honors in 1998 and Midwest Region MVP laurels in 1996.

A graduate of Geneva College, Nocera earned his M.Ed. from Kensington (Calif.) University and his Ph.D. from LaSalle University. He also earned principal and superintendent certification from Westminster and special education certification from Slippery Rock.

Nocera currently works full time as principal at JFK and West Side Primary Centers in the New Castle School District. Nocera and his wife, Lisa, reside in Poland, Ohio, with their son, C.J., and daughter, Brielle.
