

Adjunct Faculty – School of Nursing, Didactic Tutor

The Westminster College School of Nursing is seeking an Adjunct Faculty member to provide academic support to pre-licensed nursing students through weekly evening didactic tutoring sessions. The tutoring session may include skills practice or a brief simulation scenario when appropriate with the assistance of the simulation lab manager. The 15-week sessions will be held weekly in the fall and spring semesters.

Responsibilities:

- Facilitate one evening per week of structural didactic tutoring to reinforce nursing content.
- Develop engaging learning activities to promote clinical reasoning, and NCLEX style testing strategies.
- Facilitate short simulation scenarios with the Simulation Lab Manager, to coincide with tutoring sessions when applicable.
- Maintain accurate attendance of tutoring sessions.

Requirements:

Current, unencumbered RN license in Pa.

MSN degree with emphasis in Nursing education

At least 2 years teaching pre-licensure RN students or tutoring nursing students

Application Deadline: ASAP or until filled.

Please send letter of interest and curriculum vitae/resume by email to Ms. Imari Gates, Academic Administrative Assistant, Dept. of Nursing, Westminster College, at gatesit@westminster.edu
