

CRIMINAL JUSTICE STUDIES, WESTMINSTER COLLEGE. The Criminal Justice Studies and Sociology Department at Westminster College in New Wilmington, Pennsylvania is seeking applications for a tenure-track position in Criminal Justice Studies at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin in August, 2023. A Ph.D. in Criminal Justice Studies, Criminology, Sociology, or a related discipline is preferred, but advanced ABD's will be considered. Additional applied experience working within the Criminal Justice System is ideal.

We seek an applicant to contribute to our vital and growing Criminal Justice Studies and Sociology programs. The Department seeks applications from scholars that are willing to teach quantitative research methods to study criminological and criminal justice system issues, as well as to contribute across the College's curriculum. Teaching load is three courses per semester (in person) and responsibilities will include Data Analysis, other CJS courses, and courses in the core curriculum and first-year program. The successful candidate will be highly committed to teaching excellence in addition to scholarship and service in a liberal arts environment. The College also expects research outputs in the relevant field of specialization.

Westminster College is an Equal Opportunity Employer, enhancing learning through diversity and inclusion. The College is a nationally recognized liberal arts college, known for its collaborative environment, outstanding experiential learning programs, and focus on student success. Related to the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), Westminster was founded in 1852 as one of the first college in the country to offer the same degrees to all people, regardless of gender, race, or religion. Westminster has been ranked among the nation's top schools for "Top Colleges Doing the Most for the American Dream" (N.Y. Times), "best value for the money" (College Factual), employment success (Educate to Career Index), graduation rate performance (U.S. News), social mobility (Washington Monthly), women in STEM disciplines (Forbes), service-learning (President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll), and other categories. Around 1,200 undergraduate and graduate students benefit from close personal attention from dedicated faculty while choosing from 41 majors, 10 pre-professional programs and 80 organizations. Westminster's historic campus is located in New Wilmington, PA, a beautiful rural setting near Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

To apply for this position, electronically submit the following items to Dr. James Rhoads, Chair of the Department of Criminal Justice Studies and Sociology at Westminster College, jrhoads@westminster.edu: 1) Curriculum Vitae, 2) Statement on Teaching and Research in a liberal arts college, 3) evidence of teaching effectiveness, 4) evidence of scholarly potential or achievement, 5) names and contact information for three professional references.
