

LEVERAGING YOUR ASSETS

As we conclude our series on knowing your assets, we will focus leveraging your heart and hive.

HEART (your values and passions) Example: I am a very loyal person.

HIVE (social/professional networks) Example: I met helpful alumni during PNS.

HEART:

- What are your values? How do you apply them every day in your work? In the classroom?
- What is your passion? Does your major align with or allow you to explore your passions? What internships or careers match your passions?
- The PDCE can help you identify your passion through assessments and other tools in our office. We can then locate professional and community experiences to help you live your passions!

HIVE:

- Do you have a LinkedIn account? What about a Handshake account? How are you networking within your major? Are you forming connections to help you with internships, graduate school, or careers?
- The PDCE can help you connect with Westminster alumni in your career field. You also can find alumni on The Titan Network on LinkedIn.

Internship Ready?

As we approach the spring semester, do you have an internship lined up for the summer and/or fall?

If so,

- Contact the PDCE so the internship application can be added to your my.Westminster account.
- See the steps here.

If not, you should set up a meeting with your advisor and then the PDCE so you can begin the process.

You can schedule an appointment here: <https://calendly.com/jr>
